Connectivity for Manufacturing and Logistics

Building a Solid Foundation for Modern Assembly, Warehousing and Transportation.

Manufacturing and logistics have evolved to be equal parts manual and digital. The right IT goes a long way towards keeping everything running on time and within budget.

The right IT for industry 4.0

Maintaining productivity, security and efficiency is a delicate balancing act. One wrong input can disrupt this carefully orchestrated chain. And with so much technology woven into every area – IIoT, digital twins, supply chain integrations, automated production and robotics – underpowered or ineffective IT could be that point where everything breaks down.

Segra provides manufacturers and transportation operations of all sizes, from specialized fabrication shops to massive distribution centers, with carrier-grade connectivity and networking services that can handle the heaviest workloads with ease.

More than just industrial-grade internet ...

- Fast, reliable, secure fiber internet keeps your staff and equipment connected throughout your facilities.

- Wireless LTE keeps you securely connected in areas where reliable internet service isn't readily available.

- Robust cybersecurity keep your network infrastructure safe from sophisticated digital threats and bad actors.

- Hosted voice services facilitate seamless supply chain communications.
